

THE GREAT DIVIDE

Italian brand Caccaro's 'SideView' is a sideboard, a room divider and clothes hanger. This multitasking wonder can be placed almost anywhere in the home – use it as a partition in an open-plan space, to create a stylish entrance zone by the front door, or as a standout storage piece. You can experiment for yourself at the brand's new showroom on London's King's Road. From £2,350 (caccaro.it).

TIME FOR A BED

The 'Wallis' is, somewhat surprisingly, British creative Russell Pinch's first-ever bed design, produced to celebrate the one-year anniversary of his collaboration with Heal's. Its look is defined by a gently curved headboard and prominent ash feet. £1,899 as pictured (heals.com).

FOUR OF THE BEST DINING CHAIRS

Backrests and seats that seem to hover, or arms that are more (or less) than they seem – the latest chair designs put clever style twists back at the head of the table. Choose from our top picks...
